

SMART Goals

SMART Goals is a structured goal-setting method that helps individuals create clear, actionable objectives. For individuals with ADHD, this method is particularly helpful as it breaks down larger tasks into manageable steps and sets clear deadlines, which can help reduce procrastination, enhance focus, and improve organizational skills.

SSpecific

What is your goal? Write down exactly what you want to achieve. Be clear and detailed about what you expect to accomplish.

Example: I want to finish writing a 20-page research paper on climate change for my environmental science class.

MMeasurable

How will you measure your progress? Determine how you will track your progress and know when you have achieved your goal.

Example: I will measure my progress by completing 5 pages each week, ensuring that I reach the 20-page target by the deadline.

AAchievable

Is your goal achievable? Consider what might make this goal difficult and plan how you can overcome those challenges.

Example: I will allocate two hours each day to work on my paper, ensuring that I have enough time to research, write, and revise.

RRelevant

Why is this goal important to you? Ensure that your goal is relevant and meaningful to your overall life or career goals. Reflect on the value and impact of achieving this goal.

Example: Completing this research paper will help me improve my writing skills and deepen my understanding of climate change, which is essential for my career in environmental science.

TTime-Bound

What is your deadline for achieving this goal? Set a specific date by which you plan to achieve your goal.

Example: My deadline for the research paper is December 15th. I will start by creating an outline and gathering initial research materials today.

Be Flexible

If you're struggling to reach a goal, don't be afraid to adjust it. It's okay to change the timeline, make the goal smaller, or alter the steps as needed.

Celebrate Milestones

Reward yourself for every step or milestone you reach, no matter how small. This could be as simple as taking a break, enjoying a favorite treat, or planning a fun activity.

Give Yourself Enough Time

Make sure you have enough time to achieve your goals without feeling overwhelmed. It's better to allow extra time and feel accomplished than to set an unrealistic deadline and feel discouraged.

Stay Patient & Be Kind to Yourself

Progress may be slow, and setbacks can happen. Remind yourself that change takes time, and be kind to yourself if things don't go perfectly.

What obstacles have I encountered, and how have I handled them?

What progress have I made so far? What am I proud of?

What support or resources might help me continue making progress?
